Small residence/store typical of Annapolis. Two storeys, slight pitch metal roof. 1st floor is office and has been altered by glass window and door taking whole front (prob. not a recent alteration c. 1900?) 2nd storey has two (6/6) windows unevenly spaced, both slanted due to sag of framing. Front painted white, side left natural. Side toward Esso station without windows (part of a row?) future use - same as now, good for small store. Only street front would need restoration - removal of block front glass window, replaced by one door and one window (or suitable window for display) Sag of building evidenced by tie rod between two front windows (2nd storey)
